Dismissal is a practice rooted in the early church when unconfirmed parishioners were not invited to stay for the Liturgy of the Eucharist. As an RCIA Dismissal Volunteer, you will facilitate a session helping the Candidates to hear God speaking to them in the scriptures read at Sunday Mass.

Dismissal happens at Mass, following the Liturgy of the Word and is completed as Mass ends. Through a structured process, training provided, you will help the Candidates to unlock the message God is sharing with them today.

Dismissal will occur from November 27 to February 19, and rotate Mass times. You will be asked to lead 1-2 sessions depending on the number of volunteers.

World Day
for Grandparents and the Elderly
2022

"In old age they will still bear fruit" (Psalm 92:15)

Dear Friends,

"In old age they will still bear fruit" (Ps 92:15). These words of the Psalmist are glad tidings, a true "gospel" that we can proclaim to all on this second World Day for Grandparents and the Elderly. They run counter to what the world thinks about this stage of life, but also to the attitude of grim resignation shown by some of us elderly people, who harbour few expectations for the future. Many people are afraid of old age. They consider it a sort of disease with which any contact is best avoided. The elderly, they think, are none of their concern and should be set apart, perhaps in homes or places where they can be cared for, lest we have to deal with their problems. This is the mindset of the "throw-away culture", which leads us to think that we are somehow different from the poor and vulnerable in our midst, untouched by their frailties and separated from "them" and their troubles. The Scriptures see things differently. A long life – so the Bible teaches – is a blessing, and the elderly are not outcasts to be shunned but living signs of the goodness of God who bestows life in abundance. Blessed is the house where an older person lives! Blessed is the family that honours the elderly! Old age is not a time of life easily understood even by those of us who are already experiencing it. Even though it eventually comes with the passage of time, no one prepares us for old age, and at times it seems to take us by surprise. The more developed societies expend large sums on this stage of life without really helping people to understand and appreciate it; they offer healthcare plans to the elderly but not plans for living this age to the full.[1] This makes it hard to look to the future and discern what direction to take. On the one hand, we are tempted to ward off old age by hiding our wrinkles and pretending to be forever young, while on the other, we imagine that the only thing we can do is bide our time, thinking glumly that we cannot "still bring forth fruit". Retirement and grown children make many of the things that used to occupy our time and energy no longer so pressing. The recognition that our strength is ebbing or the onset of sickness can undermine our certainties. The fast pace of the world – with which we struggle to keep up – seems to leave us no alternative but to implicitly accept the idea that we are useless. We can resonate with the heartfelt prayer of the Psalmist: "Do not cast me off in the time of old age; forsake me not when my strength is spent" (71:9). Yet that same psalm – which meditates on how the Lord has been present at every stage of our lives – urges us to persevere in hope. Along with old age and white hairs, God continues to give us the gift of life and to keep us from being overcome by evil. If we trust in him, we will find the strength to praise him still (cf. vv. 14-20). We will come to see that growing old is more than the natural decline of the body or the inevitable passage of time, but the gift of a long life. Aging is not a condemnation, but a blessing! For this reason, we ought to take care of ourselves and remain active in our later years. This is also true from a spiritual standpoint: we ought to cultivate our interior life through the assiduous reading of the word of God, daily prayer, reception of the sacraments and participation in the liturgy. In addition to our relationship with God, we should also cultivate our relationships with others: first of all by showing affectionate concern for our families, our children and grandchildren, but also for the poor and those who suffer, by drawing near to them with practical assistance and our prayers. These things will help us not to feel like mere bystanders, sitting on our porches or looking out from our windows, as life goes on all around us. Instead, we should learn to discern everywhere the presence of the Lord. [2] Like "green olive trees in the house of God" (cf. Ps 52:10), we can become a blessing for those who live next to us. Old age is no time to give up and lower the sails, but a season of enduring fruitfulness: a new mission awaits us and bids us look to the future. "The special sensibility that those of us who are elderly have for the concerns, thoughts and the affections that make us human should once again become the vocation of many. It would be a sign of our love for the younger generations".[3] This would be our own contribution to the revolution of tenderness,[4] a spiritual and non-violent revolution in which I encourage you, dear grandparents and elderly persons, to take an active role. Our world is passing through a time of trial and testing, beginning with the sudden, violent outbreak of the pandemic, and then by a war that is harming peace and development on a global scale. Nor is it a coincidence that war is returning to Europe at a time when the generation that experienced it in the last century is dying out. These great crises risk anaesthetizing us to the reality of other "epidemics" and other widespread forms of violence that menace the human family and our common home. All this points to the need for a profound change, a conversion, that disarms hearts and leads us to see others as our brothers or sisters. We grandparents and elderly people have a great responsibility: to teach the women and men of our time to regard others with the same understanding and loving gaze with which we regard our own grandchildren. We ourselves have grown in humanity by caring for others, and now we can be teachers of a way of life that is peaceful and attentive to those in greatest need. This attitude may be mistaken for weakness or resignation, yet it will be the meek, not the aggressive and the abusive, who will inherit the earth (cf. Mt 5:5). One fruit that we are called to bring forth is protecting the world. "Our grandparents held us in their arms and carried us on their knees";[5] now is the time for us to carry on our own knees – with practical assistance or with prayer alone – not only our own grandchildren but also the many frightened grandchildren whom we have not yet met and who may be fleeing from war or suffering its effects. Let us hold in our hearts – like Saint Joseph, who was a loving and attentive father – the little ones of Ukraine, of Afghanistan, of South Sudan... Many of us have come to a sage and humble realization of what our world very much needs: the recognition that we are not saved alone, and that happiness is a bread we break together. Let us bear witness to this before those who wrongly think that they can find personal fulfilment and success in conflict. Everyone, even the weakest among us, can do this. The very fact that we allow ourselves to be cared for – often by people who come from other countries – is itself a way of saying that living together in peace is not only possible, but necessary. Dear grandparents, dear elderly persons, we are called to be artisans of the revolution of tenderness in our world! Let us do so by learning to make ever more frequent and better use of the most valuable instrument at our disposal and, indeed, the one best suited to our age: prayer. "Let us too become, as it were, poets of prayer: let us develop a taste for finding our own words, let us once again take up those taught by the word of God".[6] Our trustful prayer can do a great deal: it can accompany the cry of pain of those who suffer, and it can help change hearts. We can be "the enduring 'chorus' of a great spiritual sanctuary, where prayers of supplication and songs of praise sustain the community that toils and struggles in the field of life".[7] The World Day of Grandparents and the Elderly is an opportunity to proclaim once more, with joy, that the Church wants to celebrate together with all those whom the Lord – in the words of the Bible – has "filled with days". Let us celebrate it together! I ask you to make this Day known in your parishes and communities; to seek out those elderly persons who feel most alone, at home or in residences where they live. Let us make sure that no one feels alone on this day. Expecting a visit can transform those days when we think we have nothing to look forward to; from an initial encounter, a new friendship can emerge. Visiting the elderly who live alone is a work of mercy in our time! Let us ask Our Lady, Mother of Tender Love, to make all of us artisans of the revolution of tenderness, so that together we can set the world free from the spectre of loneliness and the demon of war. To all of you, and to your loved ones, I send my blessing and the assurance of my closeness and affection. And I ask you, please, not to forget to pray for me!

Dear Faithful of the Archdiocese of Regina,

As you know, Pope Francis is coming to Canada to meet with Residential School Survivors. The Papal Visit is scheduled for July 25-29, just a few weeks away. At this time, he will visit 3 hub locations across Canada to meet with as many First Nations, Métis, and Inuit People as possible. The nearest location to us is Edmonton, along with a First Nation community which was a residential school site.

The journey towards Truth and Reconciliation is one we must take together. As I mentioned to the clergy when I spoke with them at the end of our annual retreat, I am asking for your support as we take the next critical step.

The Papal Visit is cause for great hope. Although we are disappointed that the Pope will not visit Saskatchewan, the Archdiocese of Regina is working to ensure survivors of Catholic-run residential schools can engage with this event in any way that may offer them peace and healing.

Your prayerful support is needed during this time.

For survivors who will travel to witness the Pope's apology in Alberta, we are providing travel, accommodations, and meals. We will partner with a First Nation and Métis community who prefer to make their own travel arrangements, offering assistance in any way that we can. We will also create spaces for survivors who would prefer to watch a live stream from Regina, or who wish to gather with their First Nation or Métis community at a location of their choosing.

We need your help to ensure the ultimate comfort and care are available for Indigenous Brothers and Sisters during the Papal Visit. If you are looking to be involved, there are several opportunities:

For $500, you can sponsor a survivor's journey to meet the Pope.

This includes the cost of buses, hotel, and food for a survivor or for a support person who will be with them on this difficult but hopeful journey.

For $5,000, you can sponsor a bus that would bring survivors to the meeting with Pope Francis.

For communities who wish to arrange their own travel, your support would extend our partnership to cover some of their cost of bus transportation.

You may also pledge any amount that will directly help survivors during this time.

Whether this be funding some portion of travel to meet the Pope, or supporting those survivors who will participate without travelling, absolutely any amount would make a meaningful difference.

You may also consider other ways to contribute your time, talent, and treasure.

From preparing care packages, to volunteering, I encourage you to prayerfully consider the ways in which you and your local parish could offer to walk with survivors during the Papal Visit.

If you wish to be involved, or have any questions about the work of truth and reconciliation within the Archdiocese of Regina, please contact Sr. ReAnne Letourneau (srletourneau@hotmail.com). If you have specific questions relating to finance and how to donate, please contact James Lipoth (JLipoth@archregina.sk.ca) or visit archregina.sk.ca/giving to make a donation today.

As I'm sure you can appreciate, with this event so near in the future, it would be incredibly helpful to hear if and how you may wish to offer support. While we would be accepting of any financial support after the fact, if your group intends on supporting this cause, it would be very helpful if you could let us know by the end of June.

The Papal Visit, and subsequent apology, are incredibly important steps in healing this relationship – a relationship marred with deep hurt and countless wounds. Though as survivors have expressed over and over again, this does not end with the Pope's visit and apology. Our collective journey of healing is just beginning.

Thank you for your support for this very important step along the way.

Yours in the Risen Lord,

The Archdiocese Of Regina Lay Formation Program

“I'd love to take the course, but I want to wait until; my kids are grown, I can slow down at work, I'm retired...”

The sad truth is, nearly 75% of young people, even those raised in religious homes, will leave the Church by the time they are 25 - well before many of us retire! Some of the most common reasons given for leaving one's faith behind include; perceived conflicts between faith and science, Christians behaving badly, a lack of evidence for the existence of God and difficulties with some of the Church's teachings. Our sons and daughters need mentors who are “well-trained and animated by a sincere faith. Whose life has been touched by the personal and merciful love of Jesus Christ” (Pope Francis). We are currently accepting applications for our Fall intake. For more information on how to register please contact our Program Coordinator, Deacon Eric Gurash at 306-352-1651 ext 6724 or email him at egurash@archregina.sk.ca

Fr. John Weckend, Archdiocese of Regina Truth and Reconciliation Healing Committee. Did you know... “Pipe ceremonies were held as a part of treaty making. The smoking of the Pipe signified two important conditions for the First Nations and the British Crown/Canada when Treaty 4 was negotiated and signed. “The smoking of the pipe is more than a handshake of friendship; it contains a spiritual connection with the Creator as a witness to the solemn oath.” (OTC, 2008, We are All Treaty People, p.49).

Plenary Indulgence

To obtain a plenary indulgence:

- For the elderly, it is possible to obtain the indulgence by either attending a Mass on July 24, or by taking part in Mass either by television or radio.
- For young people, the indulgence is obtained by reaching out by performing a 'work of mercy' through visiting a lonely elderly person.

Stewardship Bulletin Bits - July

July 3, 2022

14th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"He said to them, 'The harvest is abundant, but the laborers are few...'" Luke 10:2

As Catholics we are all called to serve. Each of us has been given "charisms" otherwise known as gifts from the Holy Spirit to help build God's Church. Our charisms can only be used for good. We know that we are using them in the right ministry when we are filled with joy and we want to share stories about our charitable works. Discern how God is calling you to use your charisms. Say "yes" to what God is calling you to do and then do it! Share your joy and invite others to do the same.

July 10, 2022

15th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"Jesus said to him, 'Go and do likewise.'" Luke 10:37

This was Jesus' command at the end of the Good Samaritan story. Did you know that the Samaritans and Jews despised each other? The moral of the story is to love our neighbor. That means loving someone you may not know, or someone that looks different than you, or someone that has different beliefs than you, or someone that you don't like. All without expecting anything in return.

July 17, 2022

16th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"...I am a minister in accordance with God's stewardship given to me to bring to completion for you the word of God." Colossians 1:25

We are all called to evangelize – to convert individuals and society by the divine power of the Gospel. Our faith is more attractive to others by our actions than by our words alone. We may not be called to evangelize like St. Paul, but we should look for opportunities to share our faith through our actions and words, especially with those closest to us, like our family, friends and neighbors. Pray for the courage to joyfully express your faith the next time the opportunity arises.

July 24, 2022

17th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"Ask and you will receive; seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened to you."

Luke 11:9

Jesus assures us that if we ask, God will take care of what we need. The problem is that our culture often confuses what we really need with what we simply want. The truth is that many of us need very little. However, we usually want so much more! Stewardship is simply being grateful for all that we are and all that we have been given, and generously sharing all of our God-given gifts with others. Generosity is a gift that opens doors to new relationships with others and with God.

July 31, 2022

18th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"Take care to guard against all greed, for though one may be rich, one's life does not consist of possessions." Luke 12:15

The Gospel message is contrary to modern culture that continually tries to convince us that our joy comes from the material things we possess. That the more we acquire, the happier we will be. Jesus shows us that our true joy comes from our "invisible" gifts like love, mercy and forgiveness. True joy comes from "emptying" ourselves, giving of ourselves rather than always taking. We are called not to hoard but to share. True joy comes from living a grateful and generous lifestyle; become more "God-centered" and less "self-centered."
